DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract contains too many words. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2 and 4-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Landrum 5,617,771.

Referring to claims 1, 2 and 4, Landrum discloses a hydraulic torque wrench fastener tightening system having a double acting cylinder that turns a socket of the wrench upon an advance of the cylinder and ratchets backward over the socket without turning the socket upon a retract of the cylinder in which, in response to an operator actuating an advance actuator and holding it actuated, the system alternately: (a) applies a pressure to the cylinder to advance the cylinder until a programmable set pressure is reached; and (b) applies a pressure to the cylinder: to retract the cylinder; such that when a desired torque of the fastener is reached the alternation cycle between processes (a) applying a pressure to the cylinder to advance the cylinder and (b) applying a pressure to the cylinder to retract the cylinder is reduced in duration and thereby indicates to the operator that the fastener has reached the desired torque; the process of (b) applying a pressure to the cylinder to retract the cylinder is terminated when a set pressure is reached (col. 3, line 44-col. 5, line 18); and the indication to the operator that the fastener has reached the desired torque is a visual indication (col. 5, lines 60-64).

Referring to claims 5-9 and 11, see col. 6, line 5 - col. 7, line 28.

Referring to claim 10, see col. 4, lines 11-14.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Landrum in view of Franks 4,794,826.

Landrum is described above. Landrum does not specifically disclose the fastener reaching the desired torque with an audible indication. Franks discloses a hydraulic powered wrench in which the desired torque is indicated by an audible transmission so as to ensure that the workpiece is torqued to the prescribed limit. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made the apparatus of Landrum to have the desired torque indicated by an audible transmission as taught by Franks so as to ensure that the workpiece is torqued to the prescribed limit.
